public.

With sensitivity and elegance, visual artist Adélia Clavien, born in Portugal and based in Switzerland, portrays female names that have made history in cinema, art and fashion. “The artist represents, in her portraits, personalities such as Audrey Hepburn, Marilyn Monroe, Frida Kahlo, Barbra Streisand, Romy Schneider and Naomi Campbell, in a unique and surprising way”, illustrates the artistic curator. Complementing the exhibition, the artist also exhibits works that represent feelings and emotions, with the works “Garota Silenciosa”, “Bons Sonhos”, “Prazer Passageiro” and “A Desconhecida”, honoring all heroines and unknown women.

In its third edition, “Empowerment” has already passed through large spaces in the capital of São Paulo and Greater São Paulo. Last year, the show opened in March at Morumbi Town Shopping and celebrated its success at the Special Room of Pinacoteca Municipal de São Caetano do Sul, on ABC, where it was on display from May to August 2022. “To celebrate the third edition of the exhibition, we chose an address that symbolizes the culture and diversity of the capital of São Paulo, as is the center of São Paulo”, concludes Marisa,
